

Privacy and Cookie Policy

Updated according to the Italian Data Protection Authority's guidelines - January 9, 2022

This policy is drafted in accordance with Italian legislation on the protection of personal data, GDPR 2016/679 and subsequent amendments.

Our website does not use profiling cookies and does not collect personal data.

This decision is based on serious, objective facts: the implementation of mandatory consent banners slows down navigation, damaging the site's ranking in search engines, and complicates visitors' access to content, penalizing their overall experience and their use of the web in general.

For this reason, our website uses only technical cookies, which are necessary to ensure the correct functioning of management functions.

Contact Form - Any contact form on the website is used solely to send a simple email. The data entered is used only to respond to visitor requests and is not stored in any database.

How to Contact Us - For any information or to exercise your rights under the GDPR, please contact us at the email address indicated on this site.

Other Sites - Our site's pages may contain links to other websites (e.g., sites cited in news, links to social networks, etc.). These external sites may use their own cookies, but they are not under our control or responsibility. We recommend consulting their cookie policies before clicking on them and using your browser settings to manage them.